KNIGHTS OF LABOR. Grand Master Powderiy's Report to the Convention.

DENVER (Col.), November 11th .- The General Assembly of the Knights of Labor convened this morning with about 200 delegates present. General Master Workman When the police came in and stopped convened this morning with about 200 delegates present. General Master Workman Powderly read his annual address, after Powderly read his annual address, after the fight they found that Miller was fatally which the Assembly adjourned until to-injured, Pallo in a serious condition, and morrow. A public reception was tendered the delegates this afternoon, at which several thousand people assembled. Powderly in his annual report touching on the economic policy of the Government said, in part: "We have not, as an order adopted a tariff or anti-tariff clause in our preamble, and I do not advise such a thing now. We should, however, throw open the doors of our Assemblies for the dis-cussion of this great problem, so that members may become educated in the basic principles of protection and free trade. I ecommend that on and after the 1st o anuary next it shall be permissible for we do not committ the order to either school, and yet allow our members to take up for discussion and agitation that vital question. Upon the question of maintaining legislative committees Powderly thought if the Assembly decided to maintain them it should also decide what measures they shall advocate, how far they may go, and with whom they may co-operate-so they may not be considered the legitimate prey of every faction and political party. Mr. Powderly dwelt at length upon the New York Central strike. He said in part: Individual effort in the direction of amelorating the conditions that were not easy of endurance proved abortive. Public offi-cials were appealed to here and there, but nothing ever came of it. The public press, from Buffalo to New York, was, with but few honorable exceptions, under the influence of the Vanderbilt system. With chosen servants of the public traveling on passes, with editors of papers along the road subsidized in the same manner, it became impossible for workmen to get the public ear or place their grievances before the officials of the company without subecting themselves to dismissal.'

Referring to his correspondence with Master Workman Lee, Powderly says: "Many malicious persons and papers presumed to interpret my language as being in favor of a conspiracy to get up a strike either during the Presidential year or when the World's Fair was in progress. What I said was, that if the organization could be kept up until the World's Fair the New York ('entral would be unable to refuse any just concession. Those who saw conspiracy in that sentence would, if they were ust, say that no just concession should be refused in any year. I am opposed to strikes: my views on the subject are well known. But if men are to gain anything they must be organized. They must be prepared to strike, even though we never do it. If we must have strikes, then we should prepare for them, and not allow every subordinate to rush the order into them at a moment's notice, without preparation. If 1893 should be the best year to gain what is just and right and proper for labor, and a flat refusal should be given, that would be the best year to strike, and not at a time when no preparation has been

"During the New York Central strike we had an opportunity to learn who our friends were among the newspapers, and ound that they were exceedingly few. We were given quantities of counsel, warning and censure. Many papers friendly to us did not seem to understand the situation, or the necessities of men who worked for low wages. We see the editor of a New York paper, and the President of the New York Central Railroad Company, operating the raising of a fund to feed men and women in Ireland, who have been robbed through exactly the same diabolical system that is now beginning to rob the work-men of America. That which is found worthy of praise in the Irish workman who strikes against injustice is damned in his brother in New York when he asks for nough to keep his children out of the poorhouse. In order to prevent strikes we must make every preparation to make them successful when entered upon, and legislation in that direction must be enacted at this session, or your incom general officers must be given to under-stand that under no circumstancs must they take part in a strike of any kind." Powderly advocates equal rights for both sexes, acceptance to send delegates to the next Farmers' Alliance Convention, and co-operation of the Knights of Labor with various railroad organizations in the

and is stopping at his sister's house, resting after his hard campaign. He talked freely to an Associated Press reporter to-night on the results of the recent election and, referring to the new tariff law, said in part: "If it had much to do with the Republican losses, it is not because of the law itself, but because of the misunderstanding of its provisions among people. The studious efforts of the free traders at home and abroad to mis-represent it, and the alleged marking up of prices was the most telling agency of deception. The law was less than a month old letter carriers are withheld pending action when the election occurred. Its effect could in their cases at Washington. They were not be felt or shown by actual experience. Falsehood took the place of fact and imosed upon credulous people. Goods were said to have gone up in prices which have been placed on the free list in the new law, and many articles, where duties had been reduced, were said to have gone up, all beause of the new law.

"Time alone will vindicate or condemn he measure. Misrepresentation and deeption will no longer avail, now that the elections are over. Those who care to know the exact provisions of the new law can do so by an examination of the law itself, removed from partisan prejudice. The peo ple, in my judgment, will stand by protec-

AN EX-HUSBAND'S OBJECTION. He Fatally Injures a Man Who Would Wed His Former Wife.

CHICAGO, November 11th.—William J. Miller and his housekeeper, Mrs. Albert Pallo, a divorced woman, were to have been married to-day, but there was an unexpected interruption in the person of the divorced husband. A short time ago Miller fell from a ladder and broke his leg. While he was lying in bed to-day nursing the fractured limb and conversing with Mrs. Pailo about the coming wedding, Mr. Pallo suddenly burst into the room and seizing Mil ler by the broken leg, dragged him from the bed, again breaking the fracture. Pallo then seized a hammer and endeavored to brain his rival, but Miller defended himself vigorously, and Mrs. Pallo joined in

BIRY NGHAM (Ala.), November 11th .- A stranger giving his name as William Fountaine, and accompanied by a young woman whom he introduced as his wife, visited all the public schools in this city yesterday and announced that they would give a show at Erswell's Hall at 4 o'clock. A present was to be given to every scholar who attended. Twelve hundred paid 10 cents admission, but in the hall they found local Assemblies to discuss the question: no show and no presents. Fountaine told Which will bring the greatest good to the them to pass out the back way and they greatest number, tariff or free trade?' Thus | would receive their presents there. They refused. Then he went into a dark corner, caused a panic and many children were trampled under foot and injured, some of them fatally. A policeman was sent up to arrest the swindlers and found them locked in a room. The door was broken down and Fountaine and the woman taken

REVOLT IN HONDURAS.

President Louis Bogran Surrounded by Rebels in Tegucigalpa. LA LIBERTAD, November 11th .- Several dispatches from Honduras say Tegucigalpa is in a state of seige. The garrison, it is stated, revolted and under the leadership of General Longino Sauchez, took possession, after hard fighting, of the Capitol building and arsenal. Since then street skirmishing has been of daily occurrence, and Sanchez and his forces now have President Louis Bogran surrounded in one he will be forced to surrender unless other and afterwards held an indignation meet garrisons arrive at the scene of the revolt ing, denouncing the action of the owners of POWER OF LOCAL POLICE REGULATION A man named Christiansen maintained a saloon in San Francisco which the police authorities held to be a nuisance. They so reported to the license officials, who thereupon declined to renew Christiansen's license when he applied. He was then compelled, under an ordinance of the city providing how licenses should be applied for, to present a petition indorsing his application signed by not less than twelve property-owners in the block in which the saloon was located.

Ex-Congressmen J. A. Louttit, of Stockton, is at the Capital Hotel, accompanied by his wife. But it happened that all the property in the block is owned by eleven persons, and A birthday party was given to Miss Pearl Baldwin, at her parents' residence on J street, that Christiansen could not procure, therethat Christiansen could not procure, therefore, the indorsement of twelve, though evidently if he got all, the intent of the law was fulfilled. He therefore defied the authorities and was arrested for selling liquor without a license. His defense was that the ordinance required an impossibility of him and that it conformed upon that the ordinance required an impossibility of him, and that it conferred upon the police and property-owners an arbitrary power dangerous to the liberty of the citizen. In the State Courts Christiansen did not succeed, they holding that if the eleven owners signed the petition it would comply with the law and insure the license to the applicant, if he was worthy to receive it. Christiansen accordingly George A. Smith, Courtland.

Christiansen accordingly was remanded to custody, and came before the United States Circuit Court at San Francisco, Judge Sawyer presiding, on a writ of habeas corpus, and the Court discharged the prisoner on the ground that the ordinance was discriminating, unequal in its operation, because it left the question of the issuing of licenses to the arbitrary and unregulated will of the police and property-owners, who could not be punished for arbitrary discrimination or held to account for dangerous use of the power conferred. Now comes the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States reversing the United States Circuit Court, and holding that it is within the sovereign power of the people, through their legislative mediums, to confer upon a board or body of officers the power to grant or refuse licenses on certain conditions, and that no rights of the defendant were infringed by such exercise of authority in local police regulation.

This is precisely the decision the Record-Union anticipated would be made. It comports with the celebrated Court of the United States reversing the made. It comports with the celebrated decision of the late Judge Sanderson, of the Supreme Court of this State, in exparte Annie Smith, where he held for the fullest exercise of the police powers of municipal government and the bringing of the micipal government and the bringing of the matter of the state of the police powers of municipal government and the bringing of the matter of the state of the police powers of municipal government and the bringing of the matter of the state of the police powers of municipal government and the bringing of the matter of the state of the police powers of municipal government and the bringing of the matter of the state of the police powers of municipal government and the bringing of the matter of the state of the police powers of municipal government and the bringing of the state of the circuit court of the state of Michigan, and evidence of good moral character, it is ordered that Charles E. "The objection the learned Judge takes to the ordinance requiring a given number of signatures to a petition as a condition precedent to the granting of a license, is that it confers upon a single individualas, the last person required upon the petition-an arbitrary power which is inconsistent with constitutional liberty. * * It is, then, a question whether requiring a petition by a given number of propertyowners is a delegation of municipal authority. We are compelled to think that it is not, but that it is a regulating means to inform the municipal mind as to the advisability of issuing the license; that it is not a delegation of power, but a method of ascertaining the wishes of the people most intimately and immediately to be affected by the location of the business in their

The Changeable Weather of Autumn Not Conducive to Health-The Chief Causes of Death.

Mortality reports received from eighty different localities throughout the State, with an estimated population of 754,639, give the number of decedents as 1,016, being a monthly percentage of 134+ per 1,000, or an annual mortality of 1608 per 1,000, which is an increase over that of the previous month. Prevailing Diseases .- Raports received most of them, especially in those diseases river. The shock had a most depressing affecting the respiratory system. This might have been expected, as these diseases are greatly influenced by the mean temperare greatly influenced by the greatly grea ature. They increase in prevalence as the temperature falls, and diminish as it rises. During the month of October the temperature was generally higher than normal dur-ing the earlier part of the month, but later there was a rapid fall, in some places so marked as to produce frost. This change seemed at once to determine an increase of pneumonia, bronchitis, and a condition of pulmonary affection approximating very closely to "la grippe," without inducing the severe debilitating effect coincident with that disease. It was also observed that the change in temperature had given a temporary prevalence to bowel disorders in those persons whose excretory functions were particularly active and easily influenced by variations in temperature. Cholera infantum, which, at this season of the year, usually diminishes in frequency, was noticed as prevailing in many Sporadic cases of scarlet fever were ob-

The reports of typhoid fever are increasing, the continued dryness of the weather being very favorable for its development.

Remittent and intermittent fever are not prevailing to any extent. Some few cases were observed.

Pneumonia was quite prevalent during the latter part of the month. It was so re-ported in San Francisco, Oakland, Alameda, Sacramento, Hanford, El Monte, Cottonwood, Lakeport, San Jose, St. Helena, Anderson, Gonzales, Fresno, Los Angeles and Santa Barbara.

Influenza was mentioned in nearly all ports 90 failures in the Pacific Coast States our reports as having been observed during the latter part of the month, some of our correspondents being of the opinion that it was a prelude to the grippe of last winter. CONCERNING DIPHTHERIA.

Diphtheria and croup have been quite prevalent during the month, assuming a malignity in many cases that has been quite unusual hitherto. In view of this prevalence, the State Board of Health has state.

| Sponding month of 1889, with assets of $167,080 and liabilities of $322,494. The failures for the past month are divided among the States and Territories as follows:

| State | No. | Assets | Liabilities | deemed it advisable to publish, for gratuitous distribution, a small pamphlet on the disease, its restriction and prevention which can be had on application to the Secretary, in Sacramento. The conditions being favorable for the development of the disease, the local health authorities should look more strictly to the public safety than they apparently do in the presence of these cases of diphtheria. They have the power of requiring from those persons attacked, that in regard to residence and otherwise they shall so conduct themselves as not unneceesarily to multiply the chances of extending the affection to others.

Public funerals should be strictly forbidden, and the transportation by rail of those dead from diphtheria should not be al-lowed, except under the most stringent provisions and competent inspection. Each case of such disease is a public danger, against which the public is entitled to be warned by proper information. Any person knowingly having this disease under his care or control, who voluntarily ne may occasion to others.

At this time it would be well for parents to keep a watchful eye upon the animals with which their children play, as it is a well ascertained fact that dogs and cats are very frequent carriers of infection into household. An instance occurred in this city where a pet cat contracted diphtheria from a sick child and conveyed it to a neighbor's child who unfortunately played with it just after it had left the infected home. Cats having diphtheria generally display it by a yellowish discharge through the nose, a gummy secretion about the eyes, a hoarse voice, and a desire for quiet and seclusion. Dogs are not nearly so subject to diphtheria as cats, but are liable to carry the infection on their hair.

A curious fact recently discovered by Dr. Klein, and confirmed by the health offi-cers in London, is that cats suffering from diphtheria manifest the desire more frequently in inflammatory deposit in the lungs than elsewhere, and while in this condition they were capable of commun cating the disease to children as when it manifested itself in the throat and nose. In San Francisco the disease is reported as almost epidemic, and ascribed to emanations proceeding from filthy sewers. It is also prevalent in Sacramento, in the vi-cinity of the drainage canal; was reported in Visalia, Napa, Sausalito, Hopland, Lodi, Eureka, Truckee, San Jose, St. Helena, Los Angeles, Downie, Fresno, Newcastle, Grass Valley, Chico and Alameda. The extension of this disease to so many parts of the State may, perhaps, be attributed to some condition in the atmosphere of which we are ignorant, but we do know that wherever the germ is deposited, it is nurtured in filth and developed where sanitation is deficient.

On Friday and Saturday evenings of this week Hoyt's satire on superstition, entitled "A Brass Monkey," will be produced at the Opera House, with George Marion leading and a company which the manager asserts is the strongest ever engaged for this comedy. Hoyt's farce comedies are well known, and it is scarcely necessary to more Footings were carried into the wrong columns in almost every instance. The changes in this precinct were announced by the canvassers as follows, the first figures representing the totals returned by the election clerks, and the second ones by the canvassers:

McMullen 79-62 Stanley 61-78, Rhoads 75-58, Beard 57-48, Hamilton 25-34, Sims 88-71, Irvine 52-69, Ryan 94-77, Hoil 21-30 Johnson 85-94 Maslin 55-46, Harlow 70-53, Bronner 69-87, Miller 53-44, Boyd 77-60, Winn 63-80, Howard 82-91, Bainbridge 58-49, Davis 98-81, Cravens 41-58, Devine 106-89.

The management announces that many new lines have been added, new songs written and new jokes concocted, and that the young women in the piece are more attractive and versatile than ever. The company is almost entirely new. It includes George F. Marion as Jonah, Martin Hayden as Doolittle Work, M. L. Hechet as Dodge Work, Otis Harlan and William Hatter as Mr. Barnes and Judah Palmer as Birdie. The piece in their hands is made as grotesque and merry as it is possible by any troupe, and the strong points satirizing the every day superstitions that are confessed by all men are, we are assured, better made than when new lines have been added, new songs The clerks in this precinct on election are, we are assured, better made than when day were well known and prominent busivery few in these precincts. Miss Eunice Goodrich is announced to appear at the Opera House for one week years ago, she played a very successful engagement and won deserved commendaion. She is the author of the comedies she plays; "Dad's Boy." "Wanted, a Husband," "A Show Man," "Z'zi, the Actor's Daughter," and "Innocent Salt." She is a magnetic little woman, who wins the sym-pathy of her audience quickly and holds it with the skill of one thoroughly trained in the art of pleasing.

Rumors of trouble among the banking institutions were current all day, but no announcement, while not entirely unexone paid much heed, thinking they were pected, caused a good deal of indignation, the usual emanations of bear minds.

After the close, however, it was learned that three banks, members of the Clearing House Association, had a difficulty in setthem. There was a balance against the night.
Bank of North America of $1,400.000, To-1 Bank of North America of $1400.000, which it was unable to settle. The other banks were the North River and Mechan-burg arose in the meeting and formally lics' and Traders'.

The most important factor in the develute on an average in which to decide, opments was the scarcity of money. Right formulate and express a forecast for a State up to the close it was in urgent demand or district regarding any meteorological and 1 per cent. and legal interest was element, such as the weather, temperature and wind. Rarely can a minute be given This fact and the troubles of the banks This fact and the troubles of the banks caused a special meeting of the Clearing there were only fourteen occasions last year on which the severe cold waves were not predicted, 98 per cent. of all the important cold waves being predicted.

Speaking of tornadoes, General Greely says: It appears from data on hand that in no State may a destructive tornado be expected oftener, on an average, than once in two years, and that the area over which total destruction can be expected is exceedingly small, even in States most liable to these violent storms. General Greely believes this is a matter of great public importance, and desires to impress upon the people at large how small are the chances of personal injury or loss of property in this connection.

In conclusion he says that tornadoes are not so destructive of life as thunder-storms.

According to Assignee Rytes, the Paterson firm ade in good faith it would be a scheme for obtaining money under false pretenses. Being made in good faith, the gifts are doubtless offered with the purpose of increasing directly as well as indirectly the sale of those newspapers, and rendering their business of increased value to those who offer the prizes.

"It is clear that the statute is directed against only such enterprises as are dependent upon lot or chance. It will hardly be contended that the enterprise under consideration was dependent upon chance within the meaning of the statutes. It seems to me that this question must be answered in the negative. In conclusion if may not be improper to say that this law was framed with a view to the suppression of certain well-known and wide-spread agencies for evil, and it is certainly not wise to embarrass its execution by a strained or unnatural construction in reaching after practices not thought of as motives for its enactment."

SOLD BY ALL DRUCGISTS. Price, 25 cents per Box. Prepared only by THOS. BEECHAM, St. Helens, Lancashire, England. B. F. ALLEN CO., Sole Agents for United States, 365 & 367 Canal St., New York, who (if your druggist does not keep them) will mail Beecham's Pills on receipt of price—but inquire first.

(Mention this paper.)

It is a solid handsome cake of scouring soap which has no equal for all cleaning purposes except in the laundry. To use it is to value it ...

What will SAPOLIO do? Why it will clean paint, make oil-cloths bright, and give the floors, tables and shelves a new appearance. It will take the greass off the dishes and off the pots and pans. You can scour the knives and forks with it, and make the tin things shine brightly. The wash-basin, the bath-tub, even the greasy kitchen sink will be as clean as a new pin if you use GAPOLIO. One cake will prove all we say. Be a clever housekeeper and try it.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS. THERE IS BUT ONE SAPOLIO. TNOCH MORGAN'S SONS CO., NEW YORK.
